

Privacy Policy Regarding You, our Patient

Privacy in General

1. We consider your privacy to be our top priority.
2. We do not collect any personal information if you are only visiting this web site. You may study the information here without providing any personal information. (Our internet service provider does collect some data, but it is impersonal, e.g. about web-page usage.)
3. If you want to place an order, then please send me an email, or, if there is an order form provided on the website, fill it out and send, mail or fax it to me, then it will have the confidentiality provided by the method of transmission. Once we receive this information I will keep it private and confidential, except that I will use it internally to process your order(s), to reply to your questions and possibly to provide you with further information. If you are participating in the therapeutic trials, there may be a small reduction of privacy - see below.
4. If you communicate by email, then note that you are subject to the normal vulnerabilities of that insecure mode of communication.
5. It is highly unlikely, but there may be circumstances when we may need to communicate some medical information to or obtain information from others who are taking care of you, for example the doctor or therapist treating you or possibly a laboratory testing you. In such a case we would always obtain prior authorization from you or if you are a child, from the person responsible for you.
6. We are not in the business of supplying personal information, including email addresses or medical details to anyone, for any reason. Therefore we will not sell or rent your personal information to anyone for any reason. Nor will we provide any information about you without your permission or except as required by the law.

Therapeutic or Clinical Trials

1. We have completed preliminary therapeutic trials for this EBV treatment, and the results are very positive.
2. At some stage in the future, we may do clinical trials for this treatment within a normal medical framework. If you would like to participate, please let us know.

Changes

These policies may be changed from time to time and will be displayed on this website, but we will always try to maintain the highest level of privacy possible.
